Tom Lang named Kinmount Citizen of the Year

Tom Lang scored a home run at this year's Kinmount Fair. Thanks to his efforts to build the Kinmount Minor Baseball Association, Lang was chosen by the Kinmount and District Lions Club as the 2001 Citizen of the Year.

Lion Barb Hill presented Lang with the annual award at the fair on August 31. She commended his commitment to baseball, including his support of the construction of the baseball park in Kinmount. "Tom is very community-minded," she said. Hill also pointed out, to the crowd on hand, that Tom and his family support many organizations in the community. Lang is the owner of the Kinmount Independent Grocer.

He thanked the Lions Club for the award, but was bashful about his accomplishments. On his support of baseball in the community, he replied, "I did it all for the kids."

Fishing for prizes at the Kinmount Fall Fair

Step right up and win a prize. This young girl tries her luck during the 130th annual Kinmount Fall Fair. The fair featured hundreds of displays, contests, a tractor pull, a fair queen contest and a midway that's the envy of many communities much larger than Kinmount. The event lives up to its reputation as "the biggest little fair in Ontario", as the thousands of people who attend every year will attest.

Community radio prepares to take to the air next June

The Haliburton Highlands could have its own community radio station by June of next year.

That is the prediction of Jack Hewitt, president of the Haliburton County Community Radio Association, known as Canoe Radio. "We expect to be on the air by June of next year," he told a gathering of supporters Thursday, "or it could be earlier than that," he added optimistically.

Representatives of the association were presented with donations from a number of businesses in Minden and Haliburton and then hosted a press conference to kick off its fund raising campaign at its offices and soon to be studios.

The organization says it needs about $100,000 to cover its start-up costs. Since many of the operational positions will be filled by volunteers, the costs of operating the station will be relatively low. Canoe Radio has established offices in the building adjacent to the Haliburton County Library headquarters in Haliburton. The space was donated by the municipality of Dysart, provided the organization covers the utility costs.

The organization has sent a letter of intent to the Canadian Radio, Television and Telecommunications Commission in Ottawa. The CRTC is

OPP arrest three in another illegal farming operation

The following is a summary of activities submitted by the Ontario Provincial Police:

The harvest has come a bit early for three men in Haliburton County. Kawartha Lakes OPP have charged Robert Lewis, 49 of Stanhope Township, Harry Tibbett, 49 of Coldwater and Michael Harrison, 34 of Newton with possession for the purpose of trafficking and production of marijuana.

On August 28, the Kawartha Combined Forces Drug Enforcement Unit located a large plantation north of Highway 118 in Minden Township. Upon checking the area, three all terrain vehicles were observed concealed in the bush near a pond. Officers from the Haliburton Highlands detachment arrived at that point to assist with the arrests.

The officers found three men tending to 400 marijuana plants. The potential street value of the marijuana is estimated at $400,000.

The three men were arrested without incident.

They were transported to Lindsay jail overnight until their bail hearing the following day.

Kinmount accident

A Minden Township man has been charged after an accident on August 30.

City of Kawartha Lakes OPP investigated a single vehicle accident at the corner of County Roads 45 and 121 in Kinmount at around 9 p.m. As a result, Douglas Woolley, 78 was arrested and charged with impaired driving and having a blood alcohol level above the legal limit. He will appear in Lindsay Court on September 20.

the federal body which over-see broadcast licences in the country. The letter stresses that Canoe Radio will be a non-profit, volunteer community broadcasting facility. The letter points out the organization has already received the endorsement of the four municipal councils as well as county council.

"At present there is no broadcaster in the county....and we feel that broadcasters from surrounding communities do not adequately supply our residents with the information they want and need," the letter to the CRTC stated. "Our mandate is Haliburton County people talking to Haliburton about items of interest to Haliburton County."

The radio station will be using an FM signal with a broadcast tower located at Eagle Lake. "It is our intention to provide a signal in Haliburton County that will reach every resident and cottager." The organizers admit this could be a difficult task considering the rugged terrain of the Highlands.

Hewitt described the radio station as a "unifying force for the county."

The group has already put together a sample schedule which includes a mixture of programs appealing to a variety of tastes and interests. In addition to music and information programs, Canoe Radio plans to feature interviews, reports from various parts of the county, a program with local musicians, and niche programs that deal with specific sectors of the community such as sports, politics, history, the arts, drama and even some ethnic programming. "The schedule is still very tentative," Dave Sovereign one of the key people behind Canoe Radio, said. "We just wanted to create a representation of what might be possible and how it could fit together."

The musical programs including a complete spectrum of tastes including country and western, blues, jazz, classical, Celtic, big band, folk and blue grass among others.

Road on the west side of lake described as the county's worst

Kushog property owners want road repaired

by Jack Brezina, Editor

Property owners on the west side of Kushog Lake are not happy with the condition of the road serving their part of the Highlands. Several members questioned Algonquin Highlands Reeve Eleanor Harrison at the Kushog Lake Property Owners Association annual general meeting August 25. The meeting was held at Club 35.

"It is our tax dollars...we want some action," one irate property owner told the reeve. "Nothing has happened on that road in the last four years," another commented.

"I am fighting for you at every meeting," Reeve Harrison responded. "Unfortunately, at the county level, it is a low priority." She said Kushog Lake Road West had lost its position in the priority list when the county took over additional roads downloaded from the provincial government.

Noting that the county road budget is overspent already she commented, "They have assured me that they will do some work on the road this fall," with additional work planned for next year and the year following. The reeve said the county would spend $150,000 on the road this year.

Kushog Lake Road West connects Highway 118 in the south with Highway 35 at Ox Narrows at the north. The road is very hilly and the lack of maintenance over the years has resulted in broken pavement, potholes and problems with its shoulders. Earlier this year, a county official described it as the worst road under the county's jurisdiction. Harrison said she mentions the condition of the road at every opportunity. "I have told them, it is a county road...fix it," she stressed.

She encouraged the property owners on the road and the lake association to send letters to the county demanding that the road be repaired. It was estimated that there are approximately 200 cottage properties on the road.

Later in the meeting another resident expressed concern about another road. "I don't want pavement on Shangri-La Road, I would just like it graded once in a while. It has the worst wash-boarding on it. You can snowplough it on a regular basis, why can't it get graded when it is needed?"

The reeve admitted to receiving a large number of calls about the condition of the road, but noted that the grader has a lots of roads to cover and it can't always be where it is needed. "It would be nice to have it graded a little more often," the property owner concluded.

In other matters reported to the membership, Reeve Harrison said the amalgamation of the former municipalities of Stanhope and Sherborne et al is going well. She had praise for the five member council, which she described as, "working well together. We are all committed to making this municipality the best place to live work and play," she commented. She also noted that the job of combining the policies of the two former municipalities into one is moving ahead as well.

In this regard she pointed out that a program of septic system inspection which was inaugurated by the former Sherborne council, is taking place in the Oxtongue area and will soon be expanded to the entire municipality. The current program calls for 1600 inspection to be done over the next four years. The cost is $72 plus a fee from the health unit for documentation.

The council is examining a proposal by the local Health Unit to carry out the inspections. The cost of the inspection program by the Health Unit is about $52, but the council has some questions about the details of the proposal, before it is accepted. "We plan to carry out the inspections throughout the balance of the municipality in the near future," Harrison said.

She also noted that all public springs in the municipality have been posted advising users that the municipality cannot attest to the quality of the water from these sources. She said the postings were carried out to protect the municipality from liability. She also noted that the springs are uncontrolled sources of water and while they may test clean there is no way of assuring they won't be contaminated moments later. She pointed out there is a public water tap at the Algonquin Highlands Municipal Office on North Shore Road.

Noting that the municipality has raised the rates for the purchase of shoreline road allowances, Reeve Harrison wondered, "Why would you want to bother to purchase the strip of land between your cottage and the water?" She suggested that landowner would get the same use and enjoyment out of the property whether it was deeded to them or not. "Unless your cottage is on a portion of the shoreline road allowance and as a result you have problems getting a loan or transferring a piece of property, why bother?"

She noted in the past the municipality practically "gave away" the strip of land. However, now it has established a new policy that, while it recovers the municipality's costs, will cost the landowner a great deal more. She outlined the new charges. "We are now selling the land at market value, about 40 cents a square foot. Then there is $900 administration fee, $400 legal fee, $1500 in survey costs...it can get expensive."

Other matters

- Harrison said the municipality hopes to have a public meeting Thanksgiving weekend to explain the details of the Stanhope Airport masterplan. The study is looking at the expansion of the current runway to 4000 feet and the construction of a cross-wind runway.

- The municipality has taken steps to remove fences, which have been erected on municipal property at the Buckslides, a river connecting Kushog and Boshkung Lakes. The municipality has hired a lawyer to represent its interest and is surveying the property to establish the property lines between public and private land. The actions are the latest in a long-simmering dispute between adjacent property owners and the municipality over access to the Buckslides area.

Will this Canoe float?

Editorial Letters

Does the Haliburton Highlands really need (or want) its own radio station?

For many people, having a radio station serving the county has been a dream stretching back several decades or more. But radio stations are expensive to build and can be equally expensive to operate. For that reason alone, anyone who has taken a look at the risks and potential has quickly backed away from the idea. (We acknowledge the current efforts of The Moose radio station, to string together a series of transmitters through cottage country to create a commercially viable radio operation. With a large enough listener base, it is possible to create a commercially successful broadcast operation.)

It is the tenacity of the citizens associated with Canoe Radio which has caught our attention. They have started to put together the pieces of what will eventually be a non-profit community radio station serving, according to their plans, all of Haliburton County.

Last week, at a couple of events geared to generate publicity, the organizers of the station accepted donations from a number of key backers and announced their intention to have the station on the air by June of next year, if not earlier. That was a bold announcement considering they have yet to receive approval from the CRTC, the federal agency which allocates radio licences and frequencies.

The organizers expressed surprise and pleasure at the response from the public and business community to their efforts. Volunteers have been coming forward to assist with the work required to get the station on the air, both as a technical entity as well as with programming. They have even drafted a tentative program schedule that should appeal to just about everyone in the county, just not all at the same time. (The key to the success of commercial radio is a large audience representing a particular demographic.) But Canoe Radio, (unfortunately its call letters can't be CKNU), isn't looking for success in the traditional sense of commercial radio. Its measure of success will not necessarily be in dollars, although it will need money to remain on air. Its success will be measured in the response of listeners, in all age demographics, with many tastes in music and a hunger for information.

It is a pretty tall order and a perilous one, even with volunteers filling most of the key positions. But certainly the group which has brought the project to this juncture appears committed to the belief that this kind of radio station can succeed. They believe there are people in Haliburton County who want a radio station which reflects their community.

The enthusiasm of those organizing the community radio station partially answers the question posed at the beginning of this editorial. The full answer won't be known until the station hits the air and the listeners respond.

We wish them well.

Chamber of Commerce tried to help

Editor:

Thank you for the terrific story on the Northern Lights 4x4 off-road event held recently in the Haliburton Highlands. I would like to address a comment in the story which caught my attention.

Mr. Duval, the Trail Boss for the event, is reported as saying the event's return to Minden "depends on the cooperation of the Chamber of Commerce...". I want to assure our community that this event has had the full support of the Chamber of Commerce — with a few curious snags.

To make a long story short, the Chamber assisted Mr. Duval with his initial queries about getting the Superlift event in the area and we were very excited about it coming to town. However, somewhere along the way — and for reasons that remain unknown, Mr. Duval ended communications.

Our preliminary discussions about t-shirts, participant kits, community assistance, opportunities for local vendors and suppliers, etc. came to an abrupt halt and, unfortunately, never came to fruition. I don't know why Mr. Duval went incommunicado, but I do know that from his first call to us in March asking for help, the Chamber of Commerce has been a supporter of the Superlift event.

It's too bad we couldn't do the shirts, kits and so on mentioned above, but we are thrilled the event was so successful. And as for next year, the Chamber of Commerce will be where it has always been regarding this event: ready, willing and able to support and encourage tourism in Haliburton County.

Diagnosis of rare condition saved son's life

Editor:

I am writing this letter on behalf of all our family, especially myself and our son Barry.

Two weeks ago Barry developed what we thought was just a simple strep-infection. Every time we took him in, the symptoms got progressively worse. After the sixth day of fever, his entire trunk area covered in an angry rash, his mouth was blistered and so inflamed he was having difficulty eating or drinking, both his hands and feet swollen and covered with a rash, and his eyes swollen and bloodshot,

Close call--much help

Editor:

After a recent serious accident on a slippery curve near Rosedale, We want to offer our sincere thanks to the bystanders and medical personnel for the care we received. Our injuries will eventually heal with the loving help of our family and our friends and neighbours at Horseshoe Lake.

Take care and please watch out for slippery roads when it has just started to rain.

Fran and Norm Smith,

and finally his leg joints became so sore and inflamed it was all he could do to walk.

My husband and I decided that if they couldn't provide any clearer diagnosis this time we'd head down to Sick Kids. Luckily for us, Dr. Howard was on-call at the Minden Hospital. He walked into the treatment room took one look at our son and said "this looks like Kawasaki's Disease, a very serious illness in children and he should be sent to Peterborough Civic Hospital immediately!"

He arranged for Dr. White (a pediatrician) to be waiting for us. Upon arriving at the hospital, Dr. White immediately saw Barry and said "You are very lucky that Dr. Howard was there today, he probably saved your son's life. Most children who have this illness end up very ill or just plain dead due to improper diagnosis, or no diagnosis."

My son was at a turning point with this illness, and I and, Dr. White have no doubt that Dr. Howard's quick thinking saved a terrible tragedy from occurring.

My son had to go through two infusions of blood products, he has to take aspirin everyday for two months, and go through echocardiograms (to detect the aneurysms that may form around his heart from this disease).

I just hope that with this diagnosis at the Minden Hospital all the doctors on staff are going to take the time to brush up on their reading and prevent this from happening to any other child, or allowing it to go as far as it did or further. There are no words capable of expressing our gratitude to Dr. Howard on his expert diagnostic skills, and preventing the loss of my sons life.

Barry and Glenda Stromberg and family,
Minden.

Volunteer effort

Editor:

I am a member of a group called the Norland Hillbillies. We play music for the seniors in Hyland Crest in Minden and Carressant care in Lindsay. One of the members of our group said to me that I should write a letter about volunteers because he felt that I could write a good letter. That was three months ago. For over three years I have gone through much grief and criticism because of my feelings and beliefs about being a volunteer. I refuse to be paid to do what I love to do. In the first place, I don't consider myself to be in the same class as a real hard working volunteer.

An instrument of torture

You know supreme guilt? That stabbing pain that is the physical manifestation of remorse and can make you suddenly wince and knit your brow involuntarily?

Everybody has something buried in their past that still has the power to make them jackknife upright in bed at three o'clock in the morning. Let me tell you about mine.

It's been smouldering on my personal back burner for more than twenty years and I need to get it off my chest. My Guilty Moment involves a seven-year-old niece....and an instrument of torture. It happened sometime around the end of the '70's in the kitchen of my big sister's house not far from Fergus, Ontario.

I was young and much cleverer than I am now - clever to the point of smart-assedness, actually. My big sister was both older AND more mature. She was also the mother of six.

Following a delicious home-cooked meal, she announced that her third youngest, Patti, had an after-dinner surprise for us. Patti scooted away from the table into a back room, and eventually reappeared, harnessed and trussed to a piece of machinery that look like a cross between a portable piano and a smithy's bellows, but made out of Formica. It was, of course, an accordion.

I'd seen them before - even heard them -but always at a manageable distance. This one was right in my face.

Little Patti started to wheeze out Beer Barrel Polka. I felt a smile taking over the bottom half of my face. She plunged into I've Got A Lovely Bunch of Coconuts and my smile turned into a grin which morphed into a leer. By the time she was honking out Lady of Spain, I was cackling uncontrollably, the tears cascading down my cheeks. It was deeply embarrassing.

Little Patti was playing her heart out; others at the dinner table were listening supportively. I was howling like a depraved loon. I can't help it.

Accordions crack me up.

I can tolerate bagpipes.

I can keep a straight face through a Nose Flute Recital.

But accordions just mess my mind. It's hard to say exactly why.

Accordions are hardly the apex of earthly annoyance. Not in a world that includes chainsaws, jock rock DJ's and Margaret Atwood reading her own poetry. And the instrument is not without it's champions.

The accordion is the official musical instrument of San Francisco, not to mention Detroit, St. Paul and Skokie, Illinois. Gandhi played a version of the accordion, for heaven's sake. So does Laurie Anderson and k.d. lang. But on the other hand, so do Weird Al Yankovic and the Shmenge Brothers.

I think the soaring accordion IQ (Irritability Quotient) is due to a combination of things.

First, there is the music itself, which is invariably schmaltzy and cloying; and then there's the fact that it emanates from such a ludicrous looking contraption - one-third keyboard, one-third aircraft instrument panel, one-third mechanical lung - and all of it covered in a glittery Day-Glo veneer.

I've got a hunch Elton John's coffin will look a lot like a top of the line accordion. And of course it is loud. I am always amazed at the sheer gross volume of - well, noise - that an accordion can pump out. Sounds like a device that should be outlawed along with mustard gas and anthrax bombs, but the accordion, oddly, does not terrify people, it makes them smile, albeit uneasily. Or in my case, guffaw maniacally.

I just hope my niece has kicked her accordion habit, once and for all. It's not easy.

I know of one hard-core accordion player, heading home after playing at a wedding, who decided to stop for a coffee.

He pulled in at a roadside diner and went inside. He was just sitting down at the counter when he realized - damn! - he had left his accordion in full view in his car!

He rushed back to the parking lot, hoping against hope, but it was already too late. Someone had smashed in his car window and thrown in two more accordions.

Chamber is getting ready for winter

The Chamber is partnering with the HCSA for this year's Supertrax Snowmobile Show scheduled for October 19 - 21, at the International Centre in Toronto. Combining the new Chamber booth with the knowledge of the HCSA is sure to generate terrific results.

We will be returning to both the Cottage Life Show and the Outdoor Adventure Show in the spring. We had a lot of fun at these shows last year. We met a lot of great people and spread the word about Haliburton to hundreds of eager folks.

Volunteers will be needed ... so give it some thought.

Safety, Stewardship and Sustainability

The Chamber is thrilled to be part of a new off-road group event-planning concept designed to positively impact our community and protect our natural resources.

"Off-roaders" are folks who ride dirt bikes, ATVs, Jeeps and other 4x4s. They are an often-misunderstood and much-maligned bunch of people who aren't always heartily welcomed in many communities. We think that's because no one's ever aggressively facilitated off-road events in a way that satisfies issues surrounding tourism, event planning, the environment, public awareness and security. Until now.

A new "Off Road Advisory Group" has been formed as part of the Haliburton Highlands Trails & Tours Network. This volunteer group is interested in co-ordinating the responsible use of Haliburton County's resources for off-road activities. Members of the Trails and Tours Off Road Advisory Group (TTORAG) include the Trails and Tours Network, the Ontario Provincial Police, the Chamber of Commerce, the Ministry of Natural Resources and the Haliburton County Snowmobile Association.

The Haliburton Highlands is practically a mecca for off-roaders; they're here every weekend but most of us don't know this because they ride on Crown

Land and we don't see them. In an effort to develop the practice of safety, stewardship and sustainability by groups coming into the area, TTORAG is endeavouring to provide an event-planning service that allows us to keep track of who's using what area, why, and for how long. Land Rover Canada, Top Five Highlander Safari and Jeep Jamboree Canada have already used the service, and response from Daimler-Chrysler and the Canadian Motorcycle Association (CMA) have been very positive.

The plan is to make events or trail rides in our community better understood by property owners, and easier to plan and enjoy for groups. To do this, TTORAG will:

- Let groups know who else is using which trails on what date;
- Provide groups with accommodation and local event/attraction information (who allows pets or children, how far from town, how much, what's going on in town, special events, etc.);
- Direct groups to appropriate local services, manpower and facilities that could help your event (e.g. who will provide a pancake breakfast, where you can rent a hall);
- Encourage the management and maintenance of trails so we don't over-use some, under-use others or unknowingly spoil them all for everyone;
- Let groups know about important trail info so there are no "surprises" — issues such as trap lines, private land use, regeneration time-lines, or seasonally off-limit trails;
- Notify local police that groups will be in the area;
- Notify local emergency services that groups will be here in case someone needs medical assistance on the trail;

• Encourage off-road club members to use this service so we can create a better, long-term trail experience for everyone in — and coming to, Haliburton County.

Love that name

Editor:

Algonquin Highlands: I love our new name. Algonquin is about as early Canadian as you can get and Highlands describes the terrain perfectly. If it sounds too rugged, you can always settle for our neighbours to the south, Minden Hills.

When I think of early Canada, I think of Canada the way Mother Nature made it, beautiful and unspoiled. It seems to me that if you give man any block of land, he has the ability to mess it up before long. Look at sections of our own country, our neighbours and further afield in Europe where they must have 88 countries, principalities, etc. because of different views of politics, religion or whatever. A real mess.

We are fortunate to have all this unspoiled virgin country merged with our older communities. Lets keep it that way so people working in factories, offices or residing in cities can come whenever they get a chance and see some of Canada the way Mother Nature made it.

Dale Anthes,
Maple Lake, Algonquin Highlands.

Bear with me

Pat Aitken, her daughter Nicole, 10, and son Alexander, 8, had a close encounter with a bear at their home on Tennyson Road recently. The bear spent 20 minutes to a half hour looking around the Aitken home and wandered into the garage for a look around before moving on. "It was really remarkable," Aitken said, "it was really calm." Aitken said the bear was just a few feet away at one point, but she never felt threatened at all. "We were really careful," she said. The Aitken residence seems to be a wildlife magnet. Since the bear's visit, they have had a couple of deer in the back yard.

UP CLOSE AND PERSONAL: This black bear paid a visit to the Aitken residence on Tennyson road recently. For most people, this would be too close for comfort, but Pat Aitken said she didn't feel threatened by this inquisitive bruin.

Following are items from the August meeting of Minden Hills Council.

Minden has five new recruits for the Volunteer Fire Department. Minden Hills Council passed a by-law at its August meeting appointing Jeff Black, Jai Denty, James Raposo, Greg Stamp and Jamie Sutcliffe to the department.

Minden Hills Council passed a by-law appointing a new deputy-clerk and licensing officer for the municipality. Twyla Nicholson will take over the responsibilities starting today (Tuesday, September 4).

The old Portage Bridge across the Gull River be-Leaving part of the abutments would minimize the chance that they would move without the support of the decking to hold them in place. The Haliburton County Snowmobile Association is interested in putting a deck on the abutments at a later date. In the meantime, the HCSA will be soliciting funding for the project.

The municipality will assume responsibility for the area to be used for a snowmobile trail. A transfer of the property and an agreement between the municipality and the MTO will be drafted.

Following are some items from the August meeting of County Council.

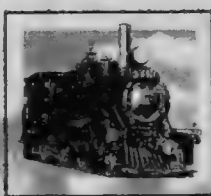

The Haliburton County Roads Department earned $17,473.10 by bidding on a brushing contract for the municipality of Minden Hills. The county bid was the lowest of four bids to brush nine kilometres of the Blairhampton Road.

County Roads Department Operations Manager Doug Ray reported to County Council at the August meeting that the department's personnel completed the work slightly ahead of schedule. "By all reports, we did a tremendous job at a good price," Ray said. He added that the county is in a position to make its crew available to all municipal roads departments in the county.

Four new communications repeaters are now in service within the county. There was some discussion about who is responsible for payment of the rental contracts for the towers. Ross Rigney, Reeve of Minden Hills, pointed out that some clarification is needed and suggested that officials from the county and the municipalities get together and resolve the question of responsibility.

"It seems to me there was a resolution that the county would pay the cost of towers," Rigney said.

CLIP & A DIP: The Yes We Will Build A Pool In Haliburton County Committee got a boost September 25 as the Hair Lounge in Carnarvon welcomed those in need of a trim, with the proceeds going to the committee. Pearl Wilson of Little Cameron Lake near West Guilford was one of nearly 30 to take advantage of the offer, with stylist Kendra Anderson doing the honours. The committee expressed appreciation to Kendra and Mark Christiano for donating their time and the salon for the fund raiser.

Senator's bill would delegate authority to municipalities

Association will consider PWC petition

owners expressed concern over a wakeboarding school which was operating from a cottage on Kushog Lake. The reeve reported that the business was told it could not operate from the cottage and the municipality was assured it had ceased to operate. However, one property owner called the number, which had been advertised on posters throughout the area, and was advised the business was still in operation and would be until the end of August. The property owners objected to the noise and wave action the operation of the wakeboats created.

• One property owner asked if the OPP Marine Unit could be on the lake more often. It was pointed out the police have a lot of waterways to patrol in the Highlands and its difficult to concentrate on just one lake. It was also noted that the presence of the OPP boat quickly becomes known on the lake and "everyone is on his best behaviour" while the boat is there.

• Finally, Reeve Harrison noted that the second tax bill should be going out shortly. "A glitch at the tax office held up distribution of the bills." The municipal portion of the taxes in Algonquin Highlands will be up slightly in the former municipality of Sherborne and down slightly in Stanhope. Based on a $100,000 assessed value, residents in the northern portion of the municipality will be paying $925.50 compared with $905.20 last year. Stanhope residents will be paying the same as their northern neighbours, but the taxes last year for the same assessment would have been $973.20.

Also in attendance with Reeve Harrison were Councillors Tom Gardner and Jim Hicks.

PWC petition

Property owners were made aware of a petition being circulated in support of a bill being proposed by a Senator which would give municipalities the authority to restrict or ban the operation of personal water craft (PWC). Association president Norma Goodger said like most things, "There are people who are reckless but most people are responsible. I personally feel we would benefit from less legislation and more responsibility." At the moment, boating regulations are the responsibility of the federal government and having restrictions imposed can be a long task.

It was pointed out that the new law would not, in itself, limit PWCs, but simply delegate that authority to municipalities which could respond to the wishes of its constituents. Without taking an official stand on the petition seeking support for the bill, the association struck a committee to examine the issue.

Foundation donation

Following a brief report from Haliburton Highlands Health Services Board Chair Jack Brezina on the state of the new buildings and the services being offered through the local agency, Iain Fraser, a member of the capital campaign of the HHHS Foundation addressed the meeting. Fraser noted that the influx of cottagers each year put a great deal of strain on the health care delivery system in the Highlands. He said the facilities serve all of the members of the community well and it is important for individuals to demonstrate their appreciation by providing financial support for the effort. "They have done an amazing job in raising $4.5 million," he said, "But there is still a million to go." He urged the members of the association to consider making personal donations to the effort.

President Norma Goodger presented Fraser with a donation of $500 on behalf of the association.

Dock sale

It was suggested the association organize a "dock sale" for next summer. Similar to a yard or garage sale, those selling items would bring them to their docks for display while those shopping would travel by boat from location to location. This type of sale has been tried successfully on other lakes. It was suggested that in addition to finding a treasure or two, it is a great way to meet others on the lake.

Heatline

Lorne and Robin Heise were in attendance to demonstrate some of the many products they manufacture, at their Heatline plant near the Stanhope Airport. In addition to protecting water lines from freezing, they have products such as foot valves, ice melt systems for roof edges and a new polyethylene pipe connector system.

Lorne Heise said the original Heatline product was developed on Kushog Lake and that he is proud to have been able to bring his manufacturing business back to the Highlands. It was located in Lindsay for a number of years after it first started.

New directors included Dawn McCann and Gary Wickman. Other directors are in the middle of their two year term.

Election

The association elected its directors for the coming year. President Norma Goodger paid tribute to Ron Vivian who is stepping down as a director and to Harvey Beadle who retired as a director after 12 years, last year.

Re-elected for another two year term were Wayne Black, John Lippolis, Christine Macartney and Leo O'Hara.

Membership

According to President Goodger, the Kushog Lake Property Owners Association has a membership of 288. This compares with 223 last year and represents about 57% of the potential members around the lake. She is pleased with the growth, but would still like to see more people involved in the association.

will be the over 35 crowd," Hewitt said, "But we have also included a time each day for high school and college students to report on their activities and play their music. We approached the high school and received an enthusiastic response to the idea."

The organizers of the radio station hope to find hosts for these programs from the community. In fact, they have issued an appeal to anyone interested in putting together a show to contact them. Training for on air presenters will be provided by two former broadcasters who are part of the group. Dave Sovereign is a retired instructor from Loyalist College and Eric Beaulieu who has television experience.

"We intend to concentrate on local information that includes weather reports, emergency conditions, forest fire situations, road closures, fishing reports, snowmobile trails, health issues, seniors issues, community services, developments within the municipalities and active promotion of many and varied events," the letter to the CRTC said. "We do not expect to command large audiences at any given time or to sell large amounts of commercial time. Instead, we want to provide niche programming that will appeal to a reasonable number of Haliburton County residents throughout the broadcast week."

The corporate sponsors who have donated $1000 to the association include Delta PineStone, Dollo's IGA, Emmerson Lumber, Haliburton IGA, Ridgewood Ford, Scott Campbell and Wilberforce IGA. Business members include McMahon Feeds N Needs, Minden IDA, Minden Taxi, Sears Floor Covering Centre, Tiger Box Disc Jockey Service, Village Chalet restaurant and The Times.

The Haliburton County Community Radio Association can be contacted by calling 754-2459.

Book sale will help finance CRTC application

Books and radio: the two seem to come from opposite ends of the spectrum, but later this month they will be brought together as Canoe Radio hosts a book sale.

"We are having a book sale at our new offices and studios in Haliburton Village," co-ordinator Caryl Moulton said. "It is a buck-a-book sale, which, as the name implies, means that there is only one price." She said the books will be in good condition, or better.

The sale will also give the public an opportunity to visit the Canoe Radio offices on Mountain Street in Haliburton, across from the Dysart arena. "While all the equipment will not be in place, we will be able to show them where it will be happening," Moulton said.

Donations are also being accepted for the sale. Contact 457-4123 or 754-1919 for details. All the money raised from the sale will be used help finance the Industry Canada technical brief required for the CRTC licence application.

If you are planning an event this year, let us know so we can pass it along!

(You Asked???)

Q: How often does my septic tank need pumping out?

A: The Ministry of the Environment recommends that you have your tank pumped on a regular basis. Every 2-3 years is suggested to avoid sludge reaching the outlet level and flowing into the leaching bed.

HHSS School Council ready for start of another year

submitted for the Council by Mary Turner

As the school year 2001 — 2002 begins, the Parents' School Council thank the parents, teachers, and students for all the efforts expended this past year to make it a successful and safe year at HHSS. Not only were co-curricular activities very present, many other headliner events took place such as a visiting astronaut (Mike Mullane) and a Holocaust survivor (Mrs Eva Olson). Many important achievements were made by the School Council this past year. We thank the parents of HHSS students for allowing us to serve the school community in this way.

Volunteer Fair

Students from Grades 9 and 10 attended this fair to sign up for volunteering in different capacities. Some 20 local non-profit organizations were represented. Students are required to have completed 40 hours of volunteer service by graduation. Thanks to Cathy Lewis-Lloyd and Steve Smith for all of your hard work in organizing this.

Phone mailbox

Although we did not receive a single phone call on our private and confidential complaint and applause line, we will be continuing this service for 2001 - 2002 school year. Here's how it works. Call the school at 457-2950. During school hours, ask to leave a voice mail message for the School Council, which is extension 549; after school hours, simply select extension 549. This line is private and confidential, and is checked daily by a School Council member. No school staff may access these lines.

Sub-Committee on School Council Constitution & By-Laws

A major revision had to be done to bring the HHSS School Council's by-laws and constitution into line with new guidelines as mandated by the Ministry of Education. HHSS is way ahead of other schools and we commend those on the committee who have laboured so hard to bring ours up to date.

Dress Code

Last May, it was reported that the definition of hat or head-covering was in dispute. For those who were holding their breath on that one, a scarf, cap, or anything covering one's head is a hat! And hats are not allowed in class at HHSS ... not for students, not for teachers!

School Council General Meeting

Our major goal for this school year is to let our school community know and understand more about how you can be involved in your School Council. The School Council is there to represent you, the parents of HHSS students. It is not an elite group. It is elected by you at a General Meeting. This year the General Meeting will be held on September 11 at 7:00 p.m. at the High School. All parents of high school students are eligible to run for School Council.

Parents' Council grapples with issues which have a timely and far-reaching relevance for your children, and as parents you need to become involved.

Expansion to provide access to legal services housing, social assistance, pensions, worker's compensation and employment insurance will be able to visit a community legal clinic.

Clinics are funded annually with a mandate to increase access to legal services and to promote the legal well-being of their community, either through the delivery of direct legal services or engaging in law reform or community education. The clinic is under the direction of a local community Board of Directors.

The former Simcoe Legal Services Clinic has been in operation since 1981 and, until this expansion, has been staffed by four lawyers, two community legal workers and two support staff. The expansion will see the staff increase by three. The new satellite offices join the existing service in the main office in Orillia and satellite offices in Barrie, Collingwood, Midland, Alliston and Christian Island First Nation.

The new satellite offices will be located in Lindsay, at 22 Peel Street, telephone 705-324-2247; (at the Legal Aid office) in Minden, at 7 Milne Street (upstairs in the Minden Hills Municipal Administration Building) and in Haliburton Village at the Family Services offices at Eastern and George Streets. Appointments and information can be obtained by calling 1-800-461-8953.

Letter to the editorA chance to use our God-given talent

Sure, they thank me and give me a pin and I'm glad that I'm able to brighten the lives of the people who must live the rest of their lives away from their homes and families. This is not hard work. We get a chance to use our God-given talent to bring pleasure to someone. We have fun and we get a chance to play for an audience and we do not have to pay for a hall.

Please let me tell you who some of the real volunteers are. Think about all the youngsters in your neighbourhood who play sports. Someone has to coach them. These people give up many hours of their time to teach and guide their team. They must give up hours of overtime and pay because they must be at the park or arena by 6:00 p.m. Often the only time available for practice is early on a Saturday morning. They must share the losses as well as the wins. They must share the tears of frustration as youngsters try and try to do things that they are not able to do. If one of their players is hurt, they can almost feel the pain themselves. They provide a bus service for kids whose parents both work and provide extra love and care for the children of single parents. They must try to maintain order during a game while parents shout and give orders to the players. I call these dedicated coaches and trainers real volunteers. Their travelling expenses are more than the average person pays to travel to work.

When there is a need in an area, people get some type of volunteer effort going to raise funds to help. If tragedy strikes a neighbour, everyone tries to help in any way they can. If a fund-raising event is required, certain people will give hours of their time to make it successful.

When Norland needed a new fire hall, the ladies auxiliary of the Laxton, Digby and Longford Fire Department raised $10,000. When these same people set out to buy a new fire truck for their millenium project, they raised $5,000 in less than a year. Considering the small population of our townships, these figures are very impressive. The hours of volunteer work required are impossible to calculate. Thanks to another small group of volunteers, Norland has had it's own private non-profit water system for many years, with water piped to homes, businesses, churches, municipal offices and community hall. This system also supplies the fire hall and some fire hydrants in Norland. Try to imagine the hours spent by volunteers behind the scenes to keep this system working. These people work in all kinds of weather with little thought of even a thank you.

Volunteers spend many hours in communities planting and tending plants and flowers to enhance the appearance of the area they live in. Most people don't even know who these people are.

Most of our seniors homes and nursing homes are under-funded as well as under-staffed. They rely on volunteers to help them cope with the extra burden of trying to brighten the lives of their residents. Some of the volunteers have health problems themselves but work around them in order to help.

Everyone has seen the volunteers who help in our local hospitals.

Volunteers put in many hours of hard work in the kitchens of our local churches, community centers and service clubs to raise funds to keep our community alive.

People read the signs that say "Community Care" but do you know what that really means? For most of the money spent in community care, some hard working volunteers have laboured for nothing. While seniors homes and extended care units provide the necessities of life for people who cannot survive on their own, community care provides the necessities of life so that others can survive in their own home as long as possible. Seniors homes have long waiting lists. Many volunteers give up long hours of their time to drive people hundreds of miles to hospitals and cancer clinics. Others provide Meals on wheels.

Every day volunteers work very hard to fill in the gaps left by our government and the bureaucrats they hire. Every day the government seems to work just as hard to take away more of the benefits that the aging population need to survive. The trend seems to be to have more and more old people helping more and more old people.

For years it has been my belief that kindness is something that you cannot give away because it will keep coming back. I have friends and family all over this country. When some of them are in trouble, I can't be there to help them but I can help someone here. If you believe in the "Chain of Love" you will understand.

So, don't thank me for doing what I love to do. Let me thank you people who have included me in this group. Open up your heart and your wallet if necessary to help those dedicated volunteers help keep your community alive.

CORPORATION OF THE COUNTY OF HALIBURTON FINANCIAL STATEMENT AS OF DECEMBER 31, 2000

AUDITORS' REPORT

TO THE MEMBERS OF COUNCIL, INHABITANTS AND RATEPAYERS
OF THE CORPORATION OF THE COUNTY OF HALIBURTON

We have audited the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position of the Corporation of the County of Haliburton as at December 31, 2000 and the Consolidated Statements of Financial Activities, Changes in Financial Position, Current Fund Operations, Capital Fund Operations and Schedule of Reserves and Reserve Funds for the year then ended. These financial statements are the responsibility of the County's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit.

We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform an audit to obtain reasonable assurance whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. Story stirs memories for residents Summer is definitely on the wane. Cooler nights seem to be the norm now, but oh those warm days are still with us. It's a beautiful time of year.

When you read this we will be into September, with kids back in school and lives will be returning to normal again....whatever "normal" is. During our session this morning we noticed the article in last week's edition of The Times "1943 Tending Livestock By Boat". We reporters did not have any memories of this, as we did not live in the area at that time. What an experience that must have been. They certainly did not suffer from a drought that year.

Speaking of days past, that reminds us of a discussion we had recently that was all about school days. What did we remember about school? What subjects we learned, what techniques were used to help us learn? We remembered spelling bees, memorizing poems, memorizing times tables, what school we attended and so on. Talking about our school days brought back many memories. Some we even laughed about, it was a great way to spend an afternoon.

We've heard some wonderful music these last few days. The Grandfathers and Leisa entertained us at Happy Hour this week. What a fun time that was. We were so pleased when Wendy, daughter of Loretta Nesbitt, got up and sang for us. Another great group, The Norland Hillbilly's joined us on Sunday afternoon providing terrific music and Burrt Bonnell delighted us with his songs on piano. Our thanks to our entertainers; you bring a lot of pleasure to our lives.

Other events that took place - well we had a great game of bingo. We always enjoy that, and it's nice to win a little money at the same time. Margaret Besse was pretty lucky this time.

Our card players were fewer this week. Marjorie Watt with partner Margaret Besse won two games to one against Lilian Millar and Roy Nicholls. Guess Roy did not get his revenge this week. Roy may not have had good luck at cards this session but his luck changed when he was invited out to dinner recently. He was the guest of Elaine Davidson and her husband at dinner at the Minden Legion. Roy purchased some draw tickets and won a prize, a sirloin steak. He is going to have it cooked for him here. Wonder if he will hide away while he eats it. A lot of us would enjoy digging into that! We will have to ask him about his special meal next week. Congratulations Roy, well deserved.

Roy does a lot of chores around here. He is the one who is responsible for the gardens looking so nice. He has constantly watered them throughout the drought. Good to hear of his winning.

The latest recipient to enjoy a leisure bath was Alice Prentice. Alice's family remarked that she never looked better. A completely new person, with makeup, hairdo etc. What a lovely idea this has been. Everyone who has benefited from the spa so far has sung its praises, a real treat! We must remember to thank Kim Warburton who comes in on a regular basis to give us a manicure. It is appreciated, as many do not have the steady hands we use to, or the eyesight. Another way to make us feel better.

A fine group of ladies from Gelert hosted our Birthday Tea recently. We enjoyed tucking into a fine variety of treats while having a good chat with our friends. A lovely afternoon and we thank our hosts for being with us.

Our hard working craft group is brightening up our lives constantly. We have butterflies and ladybugs decorating our dining tables, they add such lovely colour. This group is now working on items for Thanksgiving. They never stop. There's always another project to begin.

We were pleased to have Marion Sedgewick join us at our Tuesday Chapel. Residents who attended reported a lovely service and they appreciated Marion taking time out to be with them.

We were saddened to hear of the sudden death of Glen Scheffee. Glen worked for the Haliburton Highlands Health Services Corporation and was here occasionally in Minden. Our sympathy to his family and friends

Lilian Harrison's nephew from Winnipeg arrived to pay her a surprise visit recently. His sister and her husband joined him. Lilian has not seen them for some time and it was nice seeing them together having a good chat.

We're going to be saying goodbye to Connie Robinson very soon. Connie has been with us for a time while Dana was away on sick leave. We're glad to hear that Dana is now well enough to return to work, but we will be sorry to see Connie leave. We have enjoyed her company and wish her the best.

When you are at our home next you must make sure you see our newest resident. She is in our garden by the front entrance in all her glory. A folk art scarecrow and we think she is wonderful. So wonderful we believe she deserves a name. Any suggestions? We have Elaine Davidson to thank, as she made and donated her for our garden. She is a lovely addition to our home and we will certainly look after her.

Just a couple of messages before we sign off... We send get-well wishes to Evelyn Henderson who is not well. We're thinking of you Evelyn.

A reminder to all volunteers - make sure you come to the Volunteer Appreciation Night to be held on Wednesday, September 12. There promises to be a good time for all. Some fabulous food and great entertainment. It will be your night. It is a way of saying thank you for all your hard work throughout the year. Mark your calendars and make sure you call in for your attendance.

We often speak of time in this column - well here is something to leave you with that's all about time.

*Time is...
To slow for those who wait, too swift for those who fear, too long for those who grieve, too short for those who rejoice, but for those who love ... Time is Eternity*

I am picturing you reading this column next Tuesday with the last long weekend of the summer over and with the schools back in session. The picture is very diverse as we all live such different lives and those two events have a dramatic effect on some and 'its life as usual' for others.

I have heard so many say that the summer slipped by more quickly than usual. Where did the time go? That heat drained us of our energy while it lasted and maybe it felt like it was the only real part of the summer. In any case the 'dog days' of summer are upon us with the lovely cool nights and sunny bright days.

As part of the summer I have enjoyed some wonderful visits with family and friends. Friends from Guelph were here for a couple of days. It was fun getting caught up on all the Guelph news and the things going on in our lives. It feels good to have kept the connection all this time that I have lived in Minden. I also 'brunched' with 'old' cottage friends. A lot of catching up there as we usually only see each other once a year.

And then a visit with my three daughters. We allowed my grandson Clement to join us but no other partners or friends! I can't remember the last time that happened or if it ever did other than in the years when I was bringing them up. It felt like time at the cottage. We went swimming. We cooked and ate. We sat around the kitchen table and talked. I learned a lot about my 'girls'. They are growing into their own persons; very strong individuals. I was the Mom. It felt good. Of course Clement sought the centre of attention a great deal of the time but we willingly gave it to him. I feel very blessed. It was a good summer.

The Yes, We Will Build a Pool on Haliburton County appreciate the contributions of Mark Christiano and Kendra Anderson of the Hair Lounge in Carnarvon for their generous donation of time, talent and support at the Hair-a-Thon that was held on Saturday August 25. It was a huge success. Thanks guys.

I heard that many people went out to support this worthy and exciting cause. I also heard that Mark and Kendra donated the total amount of their earnings that day. Now that is generosity. Hopefully that hefty contribution will help get this pool on the road soon!!

New show time at the Agnes Jamieson Gallery. From September 6 until September 30 is "My Garden of Memories", a delightful collection of paintings and other treasures of Dorothea Weise. At the same time the Studio Tour Sampler is on, a selection of work of all the artists and artisans who are part of the Studio Tour which is the weekend of September 29 and 30. The opening reception of these new shows is on Saturday, September 8 at 2 p.m.

Speaking of the Studio Tour, the Stanhope Craft Sale and Soup Kitchen at the Stanhope Firefighters Hall on North Shore Road is being held on Saturday, September 29 and Sunday, September 30 between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. You are invited to drop in to see over 20 crafters and then enjoy a quick lunch of soup, sandwich and dessert for $5. All proceeds go to the Stanhope Park Playground Equipment Fund. For more information or to rent a table, please call Darlene at 489-3312.

September at the Kinmount Artisans Marketplace includes a class of Water-colour Painting with the renowned artist, Nancy Woodall. The session is $50 which includes all materials. However, if students wish to bring their own materials, it is only $30. This class is on Saturday, September 8 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. On Saturday, September 15 from 10 a.m. - 4 p.m. there will be a class of SUMI-E, the art of Japanese Ink Painting, with guest artist Diana Bullock. The session is $40, which includes all materials. For information, registration or directions for both these courses, call Patti at (705) 488-2938 or the Marketplace at (705) 488-1414.

Reminders:

• The Minden and District Horticultural Society is meeting Tuesday, September 4, (tonight) at 7:15 p.m. at the Minden Community Centre. "Flower Arrangements with Mother Nature's Help" is the topic given by Mina Clappison, an OHA judge from Cobourg. "Apple Treats" is the theme for the lunch. See everyone there!!

The Traditional Rug Hookers will be meeting next Monday, September 10 at the West Guilford Community Centre at 10 a.m. Please call 286-4112 or 286-4123 with any questions.

Here we are in September. Enjoy!!

Thank You

A Special Thank You to our Stanhope Volunteer Fire Men and Women and the Minden Ambulance Service.

I don't think any of us realize how lucky we are to have such a well trained and capable group until a dire situation comes up--then we are so thankful.

Such was the case for me on July 30, and I thank all of you for your care and thoughtfulness, it was great to know that I was in such capable hands.
